HIGHLIGHTS 2008

Reported profit after tax was $72.2 million for the year ended 30 June 2008 compared with $80.1 million for 2007. Earnings before interest and tax (EBIT) was $160.4 million, down 14 per cent.

The 2008 result reflected the impacts of very challenging external market conditions, including rising costs, weak global demand and a weak US dollar. Against this, the Group made good progress on cost reduction programmes, growth in higher value product segments and continued to deliver its programme of strategic initiatives.

PAPER

{ CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

2008 was another year where the external environment again proved to be extremely difficult and increasingly challenging. The profit results for the Group were down but the benefits of the strategic initiatives undertaken in recent years ameliorated to some extent the negative impacts of the adverse market conditions. We have been operating in difficult economic conditions now for some years and this has had a negative impact on our profits, our share price and on returns. Although we do not see any short-term changes in market conditions we will continue to focus on the key strategic areas which are under our control which involve reducing costs, improving productivity and improving production efficiencies.

A major focus of the management and the Board over the past year has been on the completion of the new bleach plant and pulp upgrade at our Maryvale Mill. This project has not proceeded in line within our original cost and timing expectations and is now scheduled for completion later in the 2008 calendar year. However, the strategic rationale for the upgrade involving increased capacity, reduced production costs, improved environmental performances and improved product quality remains unchanged. Although the completion of the project has been protracted, we are obtaining benefits from the work completed to date and are confident of delivering targeted returns on completion.

The industry structural issues I have commented on in previous reports have shown some signs of resolution, with recent closure announcements of paper production facilities by European paper manufacturing companies. This has the potential to improve the supply imbalance in Europe while the increase in Asian demand for paper is seeing a tightening in the regional Asian supply/demand balance. Nonetheless, we must continue to focus on the areas under our own control, and ensure that our Company maintains the flexibility, both financially and operationally, to continue to pursue its chosen path.

Operationally we continue to progress our list of strategic initiatives, including the pulp mill upgrade. These initiatives have helped buffer the Company results against the negative pressures of recent years and new initiatives have been added as opportunities arise. In some cases investment in these initiatives has had a negative impact on short-term returns, but have been undertaken because they will yield improved results in the longer term.

A consequence of taking some restructuring actions now, combined with the difficult external environment, has been the need to manage our financial resources prudently. In an operational sense this has led to a significant focus on reducing working capital on ongoing cost reduction programmes and on the sale of non-strategic property assets. It has also resulted in tight management of the Group balance sheet and of our sources of funding. We issued step-up preference shares in 2007, and continued the roll-over of the Group's short-term debt in February 2008. We will consider other funding options as appropriate to ensure the Company continues to retain the funding flexibility it needs, especially in these more uncertain times.

The announcement that PaperlinX is considering the partial or total sale of Australian Paper to external investors is consistent with this approach, though to date no firm offers have been received, nor any decision made at the time of writing.

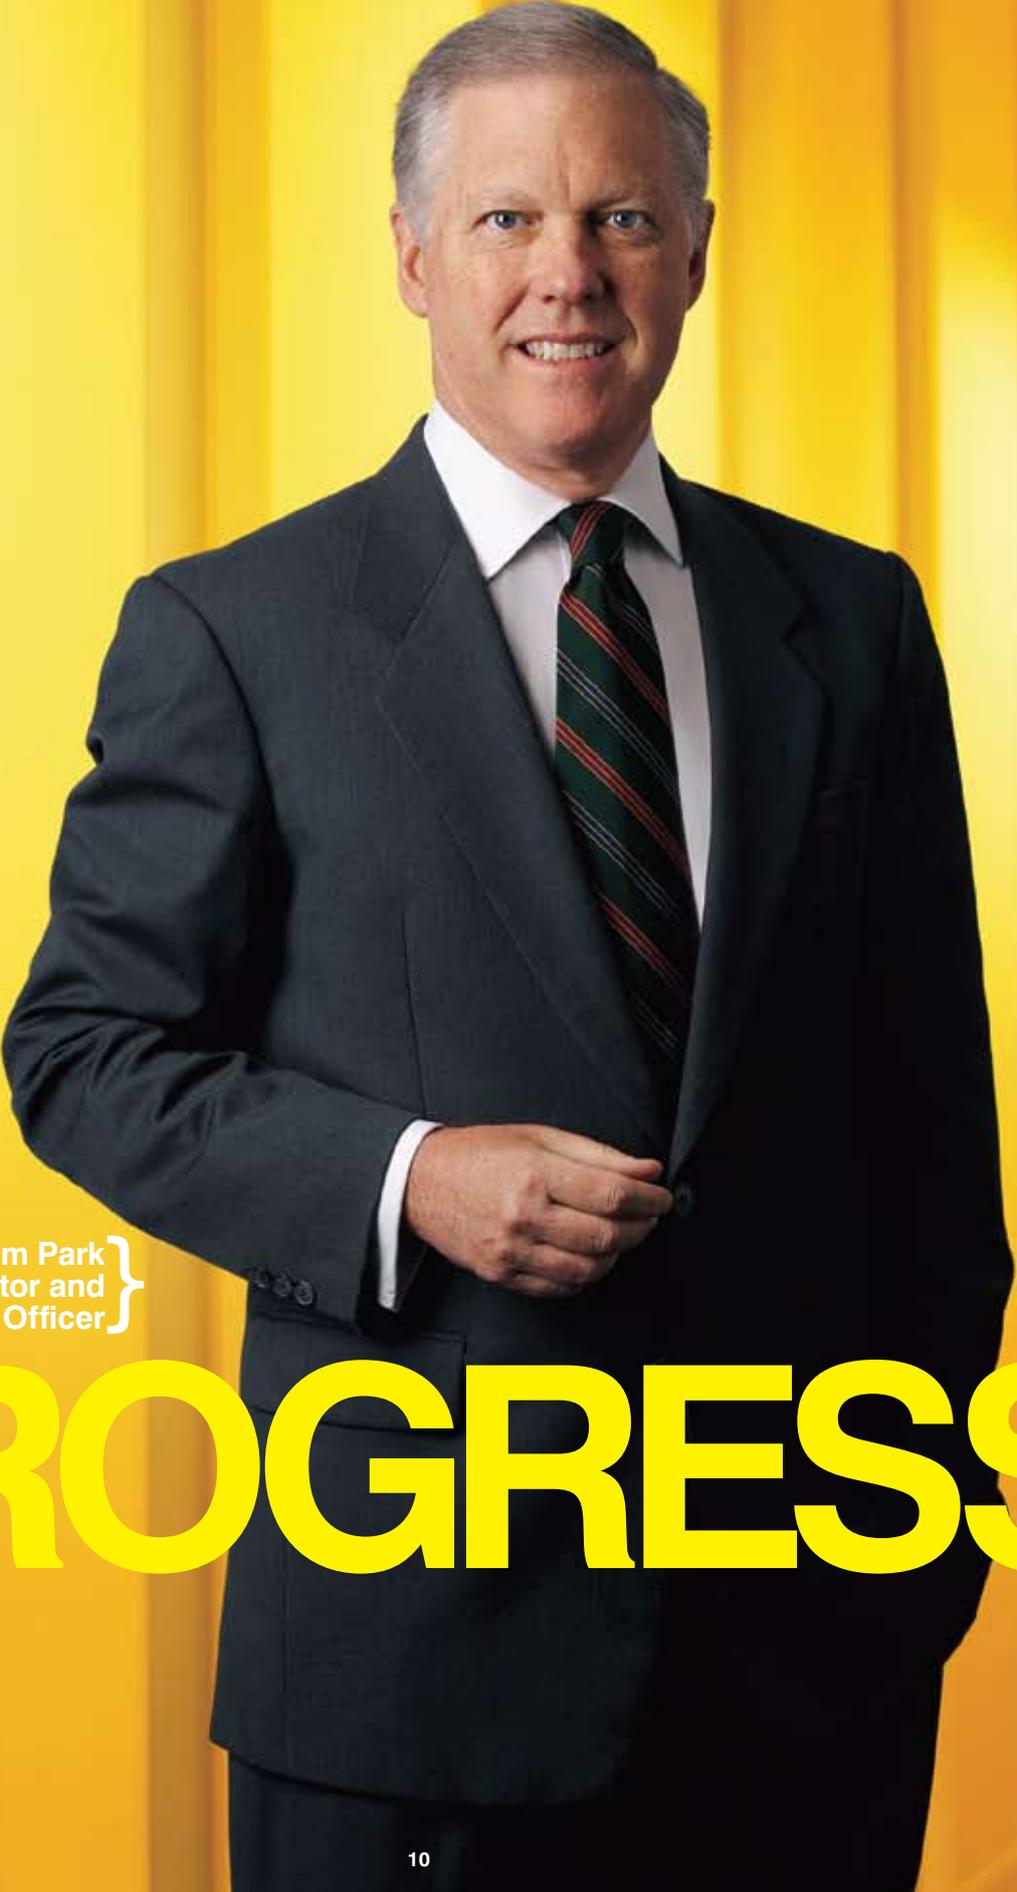

Another key focus of the Board during the past year has been to overview risk management throughout the Group to ensure that the Company adequately addresses changes in our external environment. Operational and external risks are monitored by the Board through formal reporting systems and also through regular discussions with management. Our Board Committees ensure that proper governance of Company activities is maintained at the highest standards and that we focus on key identified risk areas.

As part of our ongoing process of Director transitions, Mr David Walsh retired from the Board at the end of 2007. I thank David for the contribution he made both to the Board and to the development of the Company during his tenure. I am pleased to welcome Mr Harry Boon to the Board. Harry, an experienced Director with a strong management background, joined the Board in May 2008.

It has been a challenging year for the Company, placing pressure on management and all our employees. I thank our Chief Executive, Tom Park and his team for the efforts of the past year, and the ongoing commitment they have shown towards the future of our Company. Again I would also like to thank our shareholders and other stakeholders for their ongoing support.

PROGRESS

MANAGING DIRECTOR'S REPORT

2008 proved to be the challenging year we thought it might be. The external environment continued to deteriorate, and overall industry returns around the world remain poor. The manufacturing sector in North America and Europe particularly came under pressure from rising costs and declining volumes.

Against this environment we continued to pursue the path we have been following for the past four years. While it is sometimes not easy to see those benefits in a falling market and in such volatile times, we are moving the Company closer to a more sustainable future. 2008 was a pivotal year in this context. We have, or are close to completing a number of significant investments to improve the competitiveness of your Company. Progressing these activities has not been easy, and the speed of progress of the pulp mill upgrade at Maryvale has been a particular disappointment; though the strategic rationale for the project remains sound, and expected benefits have improved over time.

Going into 2009, as we complete this key project, we will realise the production cost savings, product improvements and a superior environmental footprint the project has been designed to achieve.

Group Results

The PaperlinX profit after tax for the 2008 financial year was $72 million, down 10 per cent on last year's $80 million. Group operating earnings before interest and tax (EBIT) were $160 million. This is 14 per cent down on last year's $186 million. This operating result reflects the difficult business environment mentioned above along with costs associated with the Pulp Mill upgrade through the year.

These results are clearly not acceptable. We understand that and do not shy away from the hard decisions needed to provide our stakeholders with the returns they expect. In fact we started on the changes we believe are needed some years ago and have been regularly reporting openly against these strategic initiatives. Certainly the externalities have been much more negative than anyone expected, but if we had not followed our current path of growth in merchanting, investing against competitive advantages and reducing our position in non-competitive or strategic activities, our position would be worse.

We have diversified into Paper Merchanting, with that sector of our business currently providing the majority of our earnings. We have consolidated businesses and facilities, structurally reducing the funds needed to run our businesses and the costs incurred. We are currently investing heavily into our manufacturing business to improve its competitive position and reduce costs further. These priorities take time to complete, but the benefits to date have enabled us to absorb the significant negative headwinds.

All of this has kept pressure on our financial resources. Our key metrics are tighter than we would prefer, and we have kept focussed on our priority areas to ensure that the dollars we have to invest are invested with the best payback. It is encouraging that we have more opportunities than we have the capacity to deal with. We will continue to ensure that the Company has adequate funding coverage, and will continue to look for ways to self-fund our ongoing investments through reduction of working capital or sale of non-core assets.

People

We have been working hard to make sure that we have the right people in the right places and that we provide them with the skills they need to make their best contribution. Training in the areas of safety, sales and leadership have all figured prominently in the last year. These activities are time consuming and expensive and we must prioritise carefully, but ultimately they are critical investments in the future of PaperlinX. If you want to see a compelling argument for investment in people have a look at our safety performance. Not yet perfect, but progress we can be proud of.

Sustainability

As in prior years we have a dedicated report on this subject (available in hard copy or on our website, www.paperlinx.com).

Launch of Values

2008 saw the launch of the PaperlinX Values. These Values have been arrived at after a great deal of consultation across the Group. Our Values are supported by behaviours that relate to how we expect all employees to act with each other, and with our customers, suppliers and others. For details of our seven Values I would encourage you to visit our website (www.paperlinx.com).

Conclusion

I would like to thank my fellow employees for the energy and dedication they have applied during very difficult economic times. It is one of the great challenges during such times to keep the focus on key areas when short-term issues are so acute. I am proud of the way our people have applied themselves, and the dedication shown at all levels of our organisation. We have made further progress down our chosen strategic path and while 2009 will be another year of challenge, I know we have built a team that is up to that challenge.

Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer

MAJOR BUSINESS INITIATIVES

Update of Existing Initiatives

Many of the strategic initiatives we committed to previously are now complete or well in progress and adding value to the business.

Our strategic initiatives delivered $81 million incremental benefit in 2008 (over 2005). These initiatives are on target to return $125 million incremental benefit in 2009 (versus 2005), an increment of over $40 million from 2008.

Additional Initiatives

To proactively address the impacts of weak markets and the delayed pulp mill upgrade benefits, these existing and additional initiatives are in place for 2009.

Continue to expand the contribution of non-paper activities at superior margins

- yoyo,TM a closed loop office paper recycling system, was recently launched in the UK and is rolling out in continental Europe
- Expand our Sign and Display platform
- Industrial Packaging acquisitions in the UK have exceeded plan
- Non-paper activities delivered 17 per cent of gross profit in 2008

Complete the remaining European property sales to fund restructuring charges

- We expect over $20 million profit with a bias to the first half of the year

A Profit Protection Plan has commenced, to deliver a $30 million expense saving and a fuel surcharge benefit in 2009 to mitigate fuel costs and market softness

- There is a focus on shared services and fuel surcharges and a hold on headcount and discretionary spend

These initiatives touch all parts of our business and show the benefits that can be achieved by following our clear and simple values and core operating principles.

Strategic Review Process

To ensure that the strategic advantages of our businesses are fully valued, a process is underway to identify potential investors for a share of or all of Australian Paper.

- Potential investors are currently performing due diligence, though there is no decision to sell at the time of writing
- In the event that an offer is made and accepted, it is probable that the long-term carrying value of the business may not be achieved at this low point in the business cycle, though 'through cycle' valuations support the carrying value
- We will evaluate offers in light of the overall value and the alternative uses of funds in the near and medium term

Merchants Overall Results

Paper Merchenting produced an EBIT of $192.4 million, down 6 per cent, with underlying EBIT of $172.9 million, down 16 per cent. Overall, Paper Merchenting has continued to produce adequate returns in this difficult environment, with clear potential for upside from any improvements in the current market conditions. The total Merchenting return on average funds employed was 11.4 per cent.

Paper Merchenting Overall
		Year June 2008	Year June 2007
Sales volume	^{'000 tonnes}	3,716	3,764
Sales revenue	A$m	6,816	7,159
Earnings before interest and tax	A$m	192.4	205.2
EBIT/Sales ratio	%	2.8	2.9
Return on average funds employed	%	11.4	11.9

- Overall sales volume for Paper Merchenting was down 1 per cent due mainly to lower volumes in the UK and NW Europe (mostly indent and commodity uncoated) and the divestment of the Western Canadian business.
- The EBIT/sales ratio declined slightly (2.8 per cent versus 2.9 per cent) largely due to the weaker US market.
- Growth in Sign and Display, Graphics and Industrial Packaging revenue was around 3 per cent in source currency, with these non-paper businesses now accounting for 17 per cent of gross profit.
- Sales revenue for the total Paper Merchenting business was down 5 per cent (flat in constant currency) and EBIT was down 6 per cent, but up 2 per cent versus 2006.
- Average working capital was $88 million below prior year and the average working capital to sales ratio declined from 16.1 per cent to 15.6 per cent.
- The return on average funds employed was 11.4 per cent, above the cost of capital.

(1) Also includes volume from South Africa.

- Sales volumes were down 3 per cent. Our key markets in the UK and the Netherlands both suffered market driven volume declines, with reduced stock volumes and office products sales.
- The average price realisation across the European Merchants platform was in line with last year, with the benefits to mix of the acquisition in Italy, continued growth in Sign and Display and Industrial Packaging in a number of markets, and branded sales of key coated and environmental papers balancing lower stock volumes.
- Reported EBIT was in line with the prior year, despite the lower volume, supported by gains on asset sales. Underlying EBIT was down 15 per cent (although in line with 2006), with the weaker UK result exacerbated by a weaker £ versus the €. The reported EBIT/sales ratio was 3.0 per cent.
- Average working capital improved as did the average working capital to sales ratio, which improved to 17.4 per cent from 17.8 per cent in 2007.

Paper Merchants North America – Results

		Year June 2008	Year June 2007
Sales volume	'000 tonnes	645	623
Sales revenue	US$m	1,138	1,078
Earnings before interest and tax	US$m	28.9	40.2
EBIT/sales ratio	%	2.5	3.7

- Total sales volume growth for North America of 3.5 per cent (5.5 per cent adjusted for sale of Western Canada) was well ahead of a declining market, supported by a 6.5 per cent growth in proprietary brands and various top line growth initiatives. Market share growth was strongly positive.
- Overall market conditions were soft, with the US showing reduced market volumes (total US printing and writing paper volumes were down 4.7 per cent in calendar 2007 and a further 3.2 per cent for the six months to June).
- US paper selling prices continued to be supported by mill capacity reductions (some 2.1 million short tonnes of woodfree capacity alone in North America in calendar 2007), with realised prices up 2 per cent on last year despite ongoing weakness in market demand. Canadian prices remained under pressure from the weak US dollar.
- The total operating earnings result was sharply lower, reflecting the impact of the weak US market on EBIT margins, down to 2.5 per cent.
- Kelly Paper was under particular pressure as a result of the sharp weakening of US retail and residential housing sectors on the West Coast. Both volumes and prices fell, with margins depressed.
- Canadian prices were down over 5 per cent as a result of the weak US dollar, but due to disciplined margin management gross profit percentage was up almost one full percentage point. Overall EBIT was lower as the business absorbed one-time costs relating to the new Toronto warehouse.
- Average working capital to sales at 12.7 per cent was an improvement over the prior year's 13.0 per cent.

Sales revenue	A$m	1,005	1,033
Earnings before interest and tax	A$m	21.0	13.8
EBIT/Sales ratio	%	2.1	1.3

(1) Includes the Group's paper trading activities.

- Reported EBIT was up 52 per cent, with underlying EBIT up 34 per cent. The prior year included negative currency impacts that were not repeated. Revenue was down 3 per cent, with lower revenues in paper trading (Paper Manufacturing plant shuts reducing export tonnage) having a considerable impact. Excluding paper trading, revenues were down only 1 per cent.
- Pricing in Australia and New Zealand remained under pressure from a weak US dollar. Overall price realisations for the region were down around 3.5 per cent, with regional and mix variations. This trend is reversing, with increases being realised in early fiscal 2009.
- Average working capital was reduced 15 per cent as a result of ongoing good performance on inventory management and warehouse consolidations leading to a continued improvement in the average working capital to sales ratio (11.6 per cent to 10.2 per cent).
- Earnings benefited from good performance on operating expenses, which were down 4 per cent.

GROWTH

IN REFLEX® OFFICE PAPER VOLUMES

PaperlinX's Australian manufacturing business, Australian Paper, is the only paper manufacturing operation in the PaperlinX Group, and is Australia's leading manufacturer of quality communication and packaging papers.

Australian Paper primarily services the Australian market directly and through sales to PaperlinX Merchanting operations, PaperlinX Office and PaperlinX Printing and Publishing Papers, other third-party merchants and packaging manufacturers.

Paper Manufacturing has channels to market, building off its Australian mills, so our local customers benefit from our expert manufacturing capabilities, our widely available product offering, our superior service, customer support, and our extensive and efficient supply lines.

Paper Manufacturing – Results

Earnings before interest and tax for Paper Manufacturing were $(1.9) million with underlying operating earnings of $8.2 million. Earnings were negatively impacted by higher input costs and currency, but benefited from some pricing, a positive mix, improved mill efficiencies and supply chain management.

Paper Manufacturing – Results
		Year June 2008	Year June 2007
Communication paper sales volume	'000 tonnes	485	499
Packaging paper sales volume	'000 tonnes	300	319
Total sales volume	'000 tonnes	785	818
Sales revenue	A$m	973	1,016
Underlying earnings before interest and tax	A$m	8.2	20.8
Reported earnings before interest and tax	A$m	(1.9)	10.2
Return on average funds employed	%	(0.2)	1.1

- Overall sales volumes were impacted by the four shuts relating to the pulp mill upgrade and a corresponding reduction in export volumes. Domestic communication papers volumes were up, although overall volume declined due to reduced exports. Copy paper market share in Australia has shown encouraging growth, despite price differentials as customers recognise our superior value proposition.
- The Reflex® brand of copy paper recorded a 6.3 per cent volume growth and market share growth supported by recycled offerings, advertising and delivery against the overall 'reliability' positioning.
- In the face of cost and currency impacts, good progress has been made on operating efficiencies, supply chain management and positive mix management to contain the downward impact on underlying EBIT to only $12.6 million. Record production weeks from the Maryvale Mill were recorded post the May-June pulp mill shut.
- Higher pulp costs have continued to impact operating earnings, with the average price of hardwood pulp up 25 per cent in US dollars. Cost increases in US dollars have been mitigated to some extent by the stronger Australian dollar (up 16 per cent in Australian dollars). Pulp prices have remained high with further increases announced. Commodity input costs for all raw materials resulted in an increase of $7.2 million.
- Reported EBIT declined to $(1.9) million from $10.2 million. Underlying EBIT of $8.2 million was lower due to the combined impact of the stronger Australian dollar, higher pulp costs and weaker coated paper prices.
- The high Australian dollar continued to hold down pricing across most segments, though more particularly in coated woodfree and publication papers markets, with a net direct impact on EBIT from export earnings of $(21.6) million.
- Ongoing work on product and customer rationalisation saw shift reductions on three manufacturing units taking effect in the second half of the year. Restructuring charges associated with the shift reductions were booked in the first half.
- The ENVI™ range of carbon-neutral papers has received strong support since its launch earlier this year, offering Australian customers and corporates the first Australian made carbon-neutral paper certified by the Australian Government's Department of Climate Change.
- Average working capital was 1 per cent lower than last year; however, the period end position for working capital to sales was adverse due to the timing of plant shuts.
- Four major shuts have now been completed for the Maryvale pulp mill project, with benefits being seen from the work completed. This will substantially simplify the final commissioning activities.
